

Road Trip Bingo

How to play: Spot it, mark it. First kid to fill a row, column, or diagonal yells "ROAD TRIP BINGO!" Black out the whole card for a bonus.

Red truck	Cow	Out-of-state plate	Bridge	Police car
Motorcycle	Lake or river	School bus	Roadwork sign	Yellow car
RV / camper	Horse	FREE Sing a song	Tunnel	Convertible
Gas station	Train	Mountain	Tractor	Dog in a car
Billboard with a face	Tow truck	American flag	Fast food sign	Rest stop sign

Parent tip: laminate it (or slide it into a clear sheet protector) and use a dry-erase marker so you can reuse it for the drive home.

Highway Scavenger Hunt

How to play: Race to spot as many as you can. Check the box when you see it. No screens allowed. Grown-ups can play too.

Bonus: First to find all three "hard mode" items wins to pick the next snack stop.

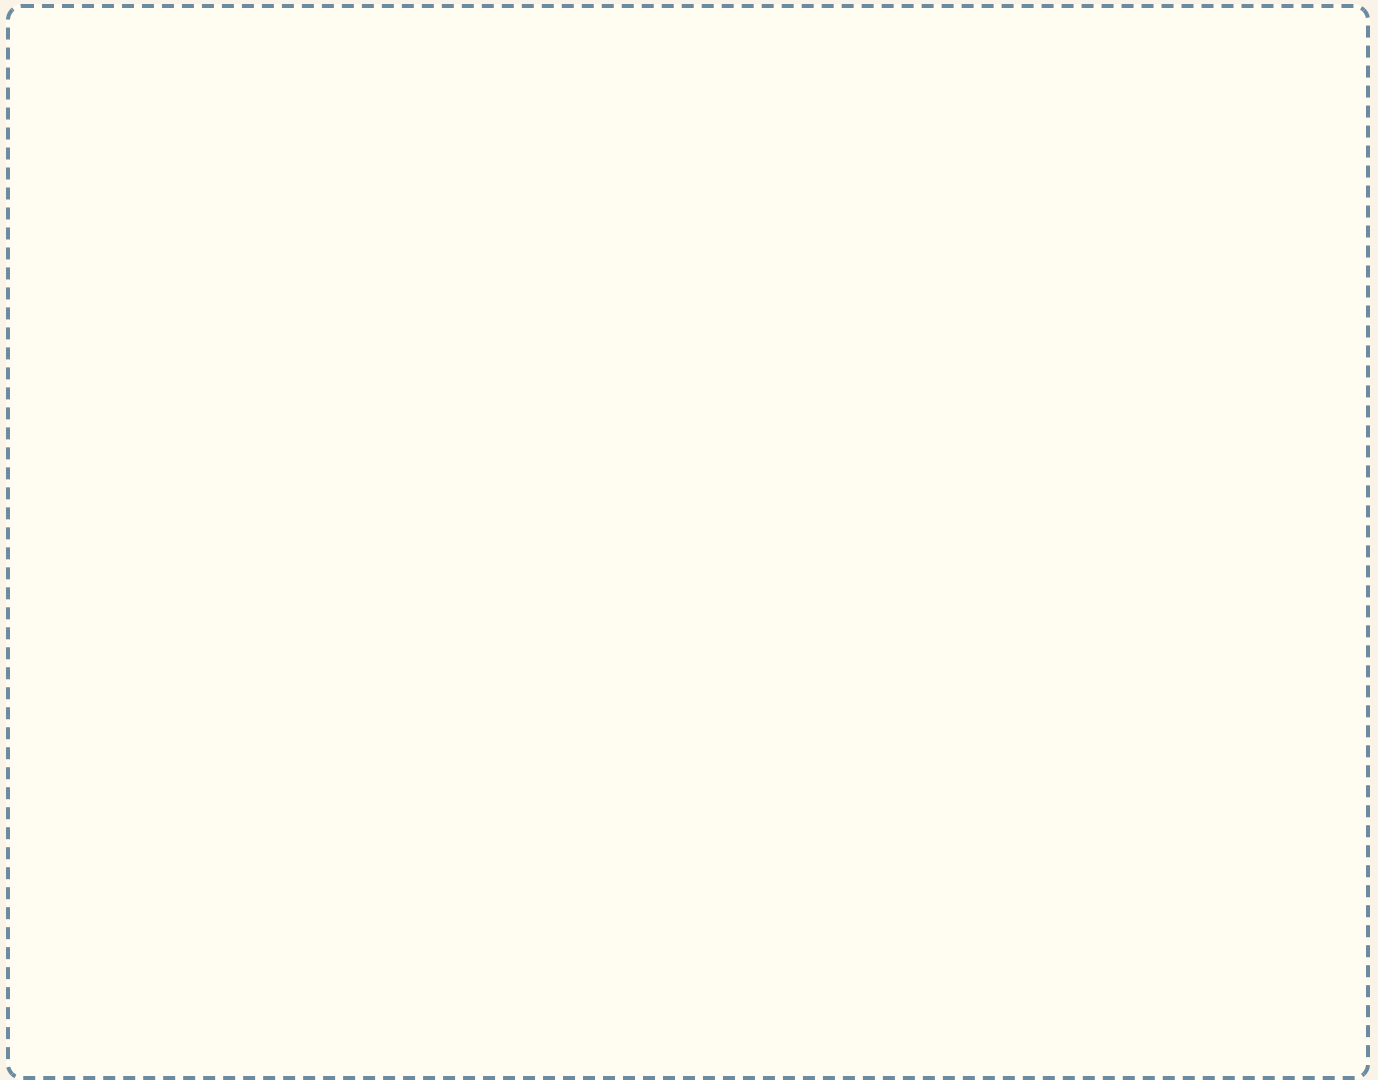

"What I Saw Today" Drawing Page

A blank page is the best toy in the car. Hand your kid this page, a few crayons or markers (skip glitter – you will regret glitter), and one prompt.

Pick a prompt and draw it:

- The funniest thing you saw out the window today
- A road trip animal you wish was real
- The car you would design if you could design any car
- Your favorite snack from today, in extreme detail
- A map from where we started to where we're going (cheating allowed)
